Selections from the Children’s Book Collection:

Folktales

North America

After a poor corn harvest, two children regain the Corn Maidens' blessings for their people with the aid of a cornstalk toy, the dragonfly. Early readers. j SB191.M2 R611 1991

Retelling of the Puerto Rican Taino Indian creation myth about a child who plants seeds which develop into a forest; in the forest a pumpkin grows and breaks open, releasing the ocean and its creatures. Early readers. j SB347 .J18 1996

Asia

This is a version of a Japanese folk fable illustrating greed and unselfishness in the natures of two neighbors. Early readers. j SB366 .M127 1993

Africa

This folktale, inspired by the magical transformation of Namaqualand each spring from near desert to fairyland flower carpets, tells the story of villagers' creation of a surprise garden as a gift for their chief. Advanced readers. j QK396 .C529 2005

A retelling of the Ashanti folktale about a trickster spider who greedily takes the special magic yams from the Spirits' garden. Early readers. j SB211.Y3 T757 1994
Europe

A retelling of a Lincolnshire, England folktale, in which a dying child is made well by the spring rituals intended to placate the mischievous beings hiding in the earth. Early readers.
j S519 .Se86 1999

To appease their tiny neighbors, an old couple tidily compost their food scraps. Early readers.
j S654 .M144 1997

General

A collection of traditional folktales from over 40 different countries. Advanced readers.
j QK83 .C115 1997

Updated March 2023

For more educational resources from the Parent/Teacher Resource Collection, visit our Library, see sfbg.org/library or call (415) 661-1316 x403